Hey guys! I haven't had anytime after school to play what I wanted. Can I play want I want today please?
No. That's not fair. Lilly played what she wanted yesterday. I'm playing what I want. And don't say no to it either.
What? I had tennis practice yesterday, with Dakota. We decided that we could all do tennis, have fun and practice at the same time. What's wrong with that?
Seriously guy's. Why are you even arguing? I should be the one arguing. But that's not a proactive response, so how about we work things out and all agree on something. I know I would like that situation.
Dakota honestly, your just going to have to pick which side you want to be on. After all, I am your best friend.
What should I do? Their BOTH my friends, and I think they want me to PICK between them on what to play. Uh-oh.
So who are you picking, hurry up it's getting late. We might miss the bus.
Let's compromise!
ELIZA, you want to play tennis so how about we do tennis first.
What about me?
Yes. I thought you were going to say that! We will do tennis first, then we can play your game of hide and seek.
sounds fair enough!
Wait but Dakota! Didn't you want to play your game? Isn't that why we got into this argument in the first place??
I don't want to anymore! I felt bad when I had to choose someone's side. I feel that this is the only way. I feel better now.
