Graphic Organizer for Writing Product Manual for Tumblers / The Girlys

To ensure that each product is made in the same way, companies often have product manuals. For example, every hamburger from McDonald's is made the same way so that the customer knows what to expect.

Today, your group will create the manual with all of the steps to create your product.

Directions: Complete the graphic organizer with elements for you to use when writing your manual. Then, write the manual like a recipe or steps in a science lab.
